KOBEN | SUSPENSION LIGHT

Originally a little Viking fishing village from the 10th century, København – or as we call it in English, Copenhagen – early became a developed and important city for all Scandinavia until it turned Denmark's capital. Known as both a warrior and farming people, the Vikings were also skilled shipbuilders and explorers. KOBEN suspension lamp is a lighting piece that pays a tribute to this adventurous and brave heritage. Packed with the Viking's old-world fairytale charm and some of the Danish modern architecture symbols, KOBEN brass and copper paddles illustrate all the journeys made through World's oceans. This long arm suspension chandelier brings to every dining room, living room and hall a strong but elegant sculptural lighting piece.
